I am committed to serving in capacities that enhance health and wellness in our community and increase access to resources, services, and education. I hope to bring awareness to the end of the lifecycle and the challenges that come with serving people at the end of life. With the increasing aging population in our county, we have a high need to collaborate and enhance our resilience through education and preparation. I am a mother and 4th generation to Nevada County resident, I love my community and it's an honor to serve where I can.
