Dear members of the Board of Supervisors,

I would appreciate it if you would read my letter during the portion of the September 28th meeting:

Many people like to quote the Founding Fathers, like the Bible, when it fits into their reality. However, convenient explanations never really deal with the truth. Our Founding Fathers had extraordinary personalities. From the polarizing philosophies of Jefferson and Adams, Washington was somewhere in between.

When it came to the smallpox epidemic some folks would be surprised to know that General Washington did not think about your personal rights; only the morale right of the common good.

In the midst of the epidemic between 1775-1777 infection rates around Boston were skyrocketing, which presented a grave threat to the Continental Army. General Washington quarantined all soldiers showing symptoms to a hospital in Cambridge, and ordered all infected Boston civilians to the township of Brookline. He also prevented anyone from Boston from entering the military zone. Washington's orders imposed many restrictions on individual personal rights. For instance, on July 4, 1775, he ordered, "No person be allowed to fresh water ponds or any other occasions as there my be danger of introducing smallpox into this army." Clearly, the Founding Fathers were in agreement that civil restrictions needed to be mandated for the common good.

Later, in 1776, Washington ordered his soldiers to undergo variolation, a precursor to modern day vaccination. This process lasted months, and no one was allowed to leave or enter the area once it began. And then, 1777-1778 this inoculation process was repeated. Clearly, the Founding Fathers would have been proud of measures to protect their citizens against disease. No Founding Father disagreed with Washington or thought he was overreaching his authority.

"Love your neighbor as yourself" is a quote often referred to from the Bible. This requires deep soul searching and humility before true unity is possibly.

May we all be at peace. May we all be healthy in mind, body and spirit.

Thank you,
Barbara Larsen

Dear Chairman Miller and Supervisors,

I'm writing to support Dr. Scott Kellermann's work as Nevada County's Public Health Officer. Having been a medical doctor over half a century and knowing Scott for most of that, I feel I have the experience to appraise his performance.

Scott's an excellent physician, friend, and human, and an exemplary public servant. Even when circumstances are trying and people unjustly criticize him, he maintains his equanimity and compassion while adhering to scientific principles.

I urge you continue to support Scott and even commend him publicly.

Respectfully,
Jeff Kane MD

Hi. I think it would be a good to implement various vaccination mandates. Such as all county employees must be vaccinated. And if someone wants to enter a building owned by the county they must be vaccinated and show proof of vaccination. Thank you.

For the Record

I am writing to demand a forensic audit in Nevada County for the 2020 and 2021 elections. My belief is fraud had been rampant in Nevada County since we were switched to automatically sending out mail-in ballots years ago. According to former Military Intelligence Officer Seth Keshel, Nevada County is rated as "suspect, likely fraud" (Election Analysis by Seth Keshel - US 2020 Election Fraud at a Glance \(electionfraud20.org\)) from his nationwide analysis. We've already had two recent publicized voter fraud convictions (both of which were let off with a slap on the wrist by our ineffective DA) that were only to be brought to your attention by the state; how many others are sliding under the radar? While Nevada County may be transparent during the vote counting, you cannot guarantee that these are legitimate votes being counted by actual living, Nevada County residents who are not voting in another county. Voter canvassing also needs to be done, and it's time to clean-up the voter rolls.

By declaring our elections 'safe and secure', refusing an audit and not doing anything to ensure the security of our elections; only makes us question them more. Trust is waning (or non-existent) in our local government and this is one reason why, because if we don't hold fair elections we're no better than Venezuela or other third world countries.

"I'm Larry Meek and I live in Nevada City, District 1. I want to thank the Supervisors for at your last meeting recognizing the county staff who made possible the Whispering Pines Covid-19 Vaccination Clinic. Earlier this year county employees, led by the Public Health department, worked with the local hospital, the hospital foundation, medical professionals and volunteers to create a model of community collaboration. The clinic, I understand, provided roughly 25 per cent of the Covid vaccinations in our county. I'm pleased to say the 49er Breakfast Rotary Club, to which I belong, and the Rotary Club of Grass Valley South were among those groups that helped. The Whispering Pines clinic was a unique endeavor in the counties of Northern California. It saved lives. In years to come, after this pandemic passes, Nevada County will still remember this effort with pride. Thank you."
